Composite Course Schedule 2017-18

We provide the most comprehensive range of composite training courses available. Delegates regularly attend our courses from all industry sectors worldwide which are suitable for individuals and small companies through to tier one suppliers and OEMs.

We are continually involved in training industry personnel for the next generation of composite parts. Our courses are recognised as demanding, rewarding and representative of current best practice and processes and are continually updated. Our tutors are industry experts and our facilities set the standards for best practice and are specifically designed for delivery of composite training courses.
